

Juniper Combined Gender Pay Gap Calculations and Comparisons – 2023

Juniper Ventures is required by law to carry out Gender Pay Reporting under the Equality Act 2010 (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017. Juniper is an equal pay and equal opportunities employer with a diverse workforce. The Gender Pay Gap (GPG) calculations submitted to Government can only be so as separate Juniper Venture and Juniper Pursuits companies and not as a combined figure for both companies. This skews the results as all Back Office function staff are located in Juniper Venture’s establishment. To illustrate comparable GPG information year on year please see the information below.

The mean hourly rate is the average hourly wage across the entire organization so the mean gender pay gap is a measure of the difference between women’s mean hourly wage and men’s mean hourly wage.

The median hourly rate is calculated by ranking all employees from the highest paid to the lowest paid and taking the hourly wage of the person in the middle; so, the median gender pay gap is the difference between women’s median hourly wage (the middle-paid woman) and men’s median hourly wage (the middle-paid man).

Juniper is a provider of catering, cleaning, hospitality and health and safety services based in Newham, east London offering services predominantly within Newham but also to some neighbouring authorities. We are an equal opportunities employer and offer an internal tiered salary structure, irrespective of gender. Historically our business employed more women than men with the 2023 report illustrating 690 female and 106 male employees.

The number of females in the top quartile is consistently high and in 2023 is 75%.

Our results show that overall, our gender pay gap is 14.91 % which broadly mirrors the gender pay gap nationally (which was 14.3% in 2023 according to the ONS) and is lower than for the industry sector which has an average of 26.6%

We have a higher-than-average proportion of women in our workforce. We attribute this to the fact that most of our roles are part time, term time, roles traditionally female dominated as the term time working allows women to care for their children during holiday periods – though we do continue to seek to make our roles more attractive to all and we are proud to be a London Living Wage employer and to have a career path and training and development in place for all staff, to enable everyone to progress.

Where possible and depending on the operational needs of the job role, we also offer flexible working which makes these roles attractive to those with caring responsibilities - which traditionally are predominantly female staff.

In respect of the control we have, all staff are recruited using objective structured recruitment processes and each job role has an evaluated 'pay grade' Equal access to training, development and promotional opportunities and a clear commitment to recruit from 'within' where possible, means an employees' earning ability depends on an opportunity arising and a wish to progress. All internal employees are encouraged to grow and earn to their full potential. The pay gap is a result of differing pay grades for specific roles, however all employees working in the same grade are remunerated equally and according to the evaluated pay grade.

Reducing the gender pay gap is an ongoing long-term goal for us and we are acutely aware that roles based in schools are influenced by wider social attitudes and this will take some time to change.

Our Actions

We strive to continually improve our gender pay gap and are using our social media platforms to publish more news stories featuring male colleagues aimed at attracting more men into the workforce and providing the benefits of working with Juniper.

We will continue to assess how we attract candidates, recruit to roles, and ensure that all staff are recruited using fair and objective recruitment processes. We are also addressing the need to modify recruitment processes as appropriate (for example where candidates are neuro-divergent and require a different recruitment approach) to avoid barriers to working for Juniper and ensuring that we recruit from the widest possible pool of candidates.

We are taking active steps to improve our data to understand and address imbalances across our workforce in relation to all protected characteristics to ensure we are inclusive and an employer of choice for all.
